

Be a pole setter by attending this series of eleven monthly presentations and discussions on topics related to research, teaching, and service. The program kicks off in October 2009 and runs through August 2010

These brown bag style meetings take place in building 646, room 102 on the first Thursday of each month from 1100-1300. Feel free to bring your lunch and eat while you learn.

The program is designed for new faculty, but is open to all faculty who want to improve their own abilities and are interested in mentoring new faculty members

- 1 Oct The differences between teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels
- 5 Nov Developing graded materials (e.g. exams, projects, etc.) and rubrics for assigning grades
- 3 Dec How different learning styles affect the way faculty teach if they want to be effective
- 7 Jan Course design and assessment in order to achieve desired learning outcomes
- 4 Feb The good, the bad, and the ugly of teaching at AFIT – what students who have been here for a while have observed.
- 4 Mar Getting a research program started
- 1 Apr Executing a research program using sound project management techniques
- 6 May Consultation and outreach opportunities – ways to make an impact within the AF and DOD
- 3 Jun The different faces of faculty service - professional societies, journals, faculty council, AFIT, the WPAFB community, etc.
- 1 Jul Faculty development and enrichment using sabbaticals and intercessional opportunities
- 5 Aug What it takes for a CV to compete in other academic circles