AFIT honors 2014 Distinguished Alumni Award Winners

The title of "distinguished alumni" is the highest honor that AFIT can bestow upon a graduate and we award very few. The men we honored in 2014 are truly among AFIT's finest. Read more here.

AFIT Celebrates 95th Anniversary

On 10 November 1919, Colonel Thurman Bane received authorization to begin instruction at the Air School of Application. The following year, the first class of nine students graduated from the newly named Air Services Engineering School. Now, 95 years later, the Air Force Institute of Technology has awarded almost 20,000 degrees and more than 400,000 people have gone through our continuing education courses! Watch the video here.

Four Articles by AFIT Alumni Published in the Air & Space Power Journal

The feature article titled "Space Separatism: Degrees of Differentiation" is by AFIT alumni Capt Stover (M.S. Logistics and Supply Chain Mgt, 2014) and Dr. Alan Johnson (M.S. Systems Mgt, 1989). Read more here.
